SUBJECT: CENTER LANE Briefing Presented to the Army Science
SG1D Board Panel on Personnel Factors in Weapon System Performance - 15 May 1984 (U)

e. (U) Dr. Chris J. D. Zarafonetis, Private Consultant, Biomedical R&D, Inc., Ann Arbor, Michigan.

f. (U) Ronald Mlinarchik, Executive Director, Army Science Board, Washington, D.C.

g. (U) MAJ John C. Helmick, Secretary, Army Science Board.

The panel appeared interested throughout the presentation, and at the conclusion thanked us for the presentation. At least one ASBP member, Dr. Zarafonetis, had been aware of the GRILL FLAME effort. All ASBP members executed a security indoctrination statement prior to receiving the CENTER LANE briefing. Major Dennis Kowal, INSCOM Staff Psychologist was also in attendance.

SG1J 2. (S/CL-2/NOFORN) Prior to the CENTER LANE briefing, LTC Buzby and [REDACTED] listened to LTC Alexander's presentation on his human technologies. Throughout the presentation, LTC Alexander discussed his research activities in the area of psychoenergetics to include remote viewing. He did not state that INSCOM was involved in the intelligence applications, however. LTC Buzby and [REDACTED] may have had a "quieting affect" on LTC Alexander.

3. (U) I informed LTC Fox, DAMI-ISH, after the fact, that I had briefed the ASBP at the direction of MG Stubblebine. He offered no objections, but stated that it had been OACSI policy (read DAMI-ISH) not to brief the ASB.
